The Selectmen's Word

IN MEMORIAM

The likeness of Mr. W. Frank Bonser appears in the beginning of our report. We are glad to pay this small tribute to the memory of a public spirited citizen who faithfully and loyally served his town in many different ways.

POOR

The amount expended for the poor has been slightly less than last year. Three aged people have died during the year, Mrs. William Jackson, Ella Davis and Annette Merrill. Peter Kelley and family fell into distress and were given temporary assistance, their transportation was then paid to Lynn, Mass., where they had a legal residence, the state reimbursing the town for their expense.

ROADS AND BRIDGES

Adopting the recommendation of the Selectmen of last year, the town voted to reconstruct York street. Five thousand dollars was appropriated for this work. After careful study of different types of macadam and with the advice of the State Highway Department, asphalt was selected because of the strength and economy in maintenance. Twenty-three car loads of crushed stone and nine thousand three hundred gallons of "Binder C" asphalt oil were used in its construction. The tracks of the trolley line were removed and the street extended to a minimum width of twenty six feet. Its length twelve hundred fifty feet. Cost of macadam per square yard was one dollar and eighteen cents. Cement curbing was built on both sides of Tavern hill.

The Old Port road culvert has been rebuilt with cement abutments and a forty-two inch diameter corrugated steel runway.

The drawbridge has been strengthened and replanked. Stony bridge, thanks to the generosity of Mr. Henry Parsons, has been made safe for the present.

Land was purchased of John L. Somers and Francenith O. Drown and a road constructed thereon thereby straightening the State Aid road from "Four Corners" to a point near the Pines school house. There are now no serious obstacles to overcome and good progress can be made during the completion of this road to Sargent's corner.

Our Lower Village and Beach will in the near future be connected with Kennebunk Village and West Kennebunk with State Aid road.

This year for the first time we have received from the State third class road money. The municipal officers were asked by the State Highway Commission to designate a third class road. The road known as the Alewife road from a point near the residence of Charles W. Chesley to the Lyman line at Days Mills was designated as such. A sum of eighteen hundred fifty-eight dollars and twenty-two cents, together with the appropriation of six hundred made by the town was expended thereon. The selection of this road was for two reasons: First, it connects our principal farming district with the village and beach; second, when completed it will connect with similar work in the towns of Lyman, Dayton, Hollis to Bar Mills and on to the Ossipee Valley trail.

Special resolves carrying appropriation for the Lower Wells road and the continuation of the West Kennebunk road have been introduced by Representative Edwin I. Littlefield and are now pending in the Legislature.

Tarvia should be applied wherever our roads are in condition to receive it as the more practical method of maintenance.

The Selectmen have negotiated the purchase of twenty-two acres of land of Arthur E. Johnston adjacent to the town gravel pit, the deeds having been passed and recorded. This will insure the town with a large quantity of road building material.

FINANCE

Our town debt has been reduced this year eight thousand dollars by the redemption of five one-thousand-dollar Town Hall bonds and three one-thousand-dollar Electric Light Plant notes.

Five thousand dollars has been added to our School Building Bond Sinking Fund.

At present our town debt stands at	$100,000.00
Sinking Fund	10,372.74
Debt less Sinking Fund	<hr/> $89,627.26

Let us set ourselves to the task of eliminating this debt. President Coolidge is insisting on the "Pay as you go" policy in national affairs. Governor Brewster asks the same policy for our state government. If this is wisdom in state and nation it should be in our municipal expenditures, and if followed we can be free from indebtedness in 1931.

Sound financing always insists on a provision for debt reduction.

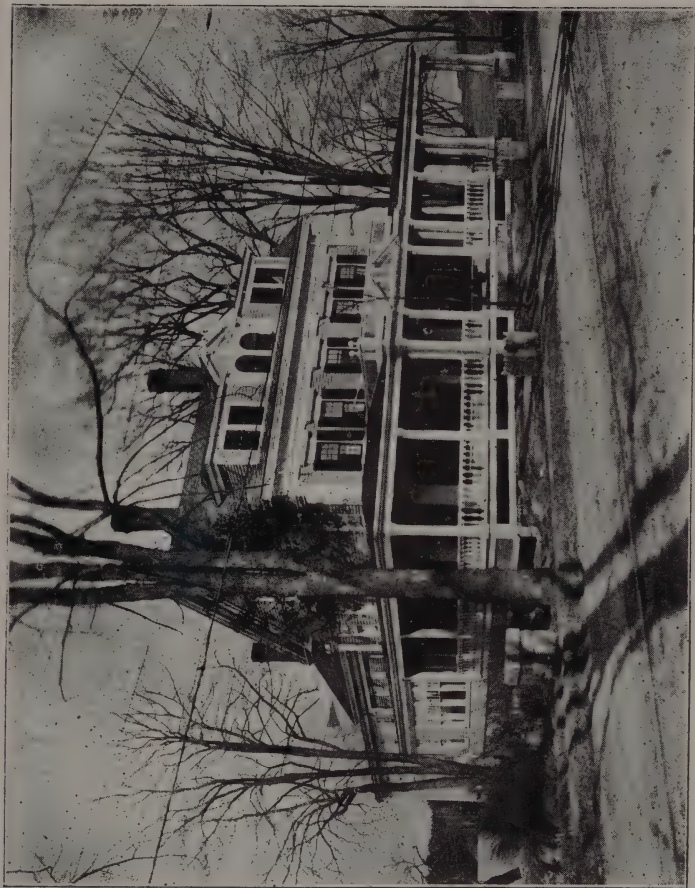

In closing we wish to thank all our fellow citizens for their support and cooperation during the year.

ELMER M. ROBERTS,

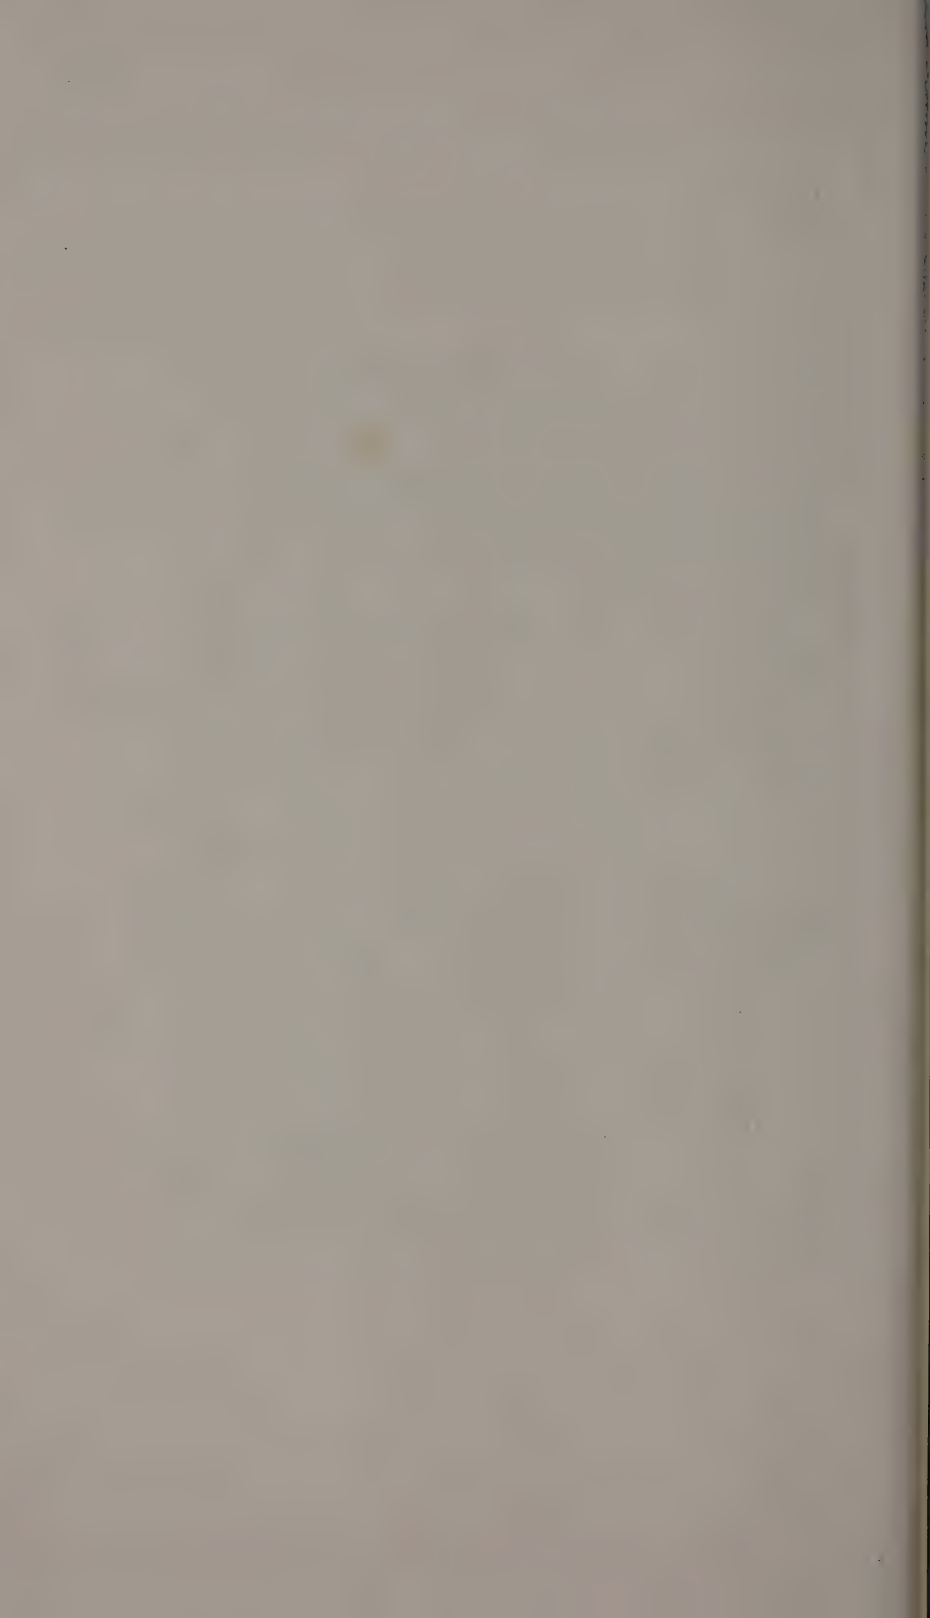

PAUL R. RUSSELL,

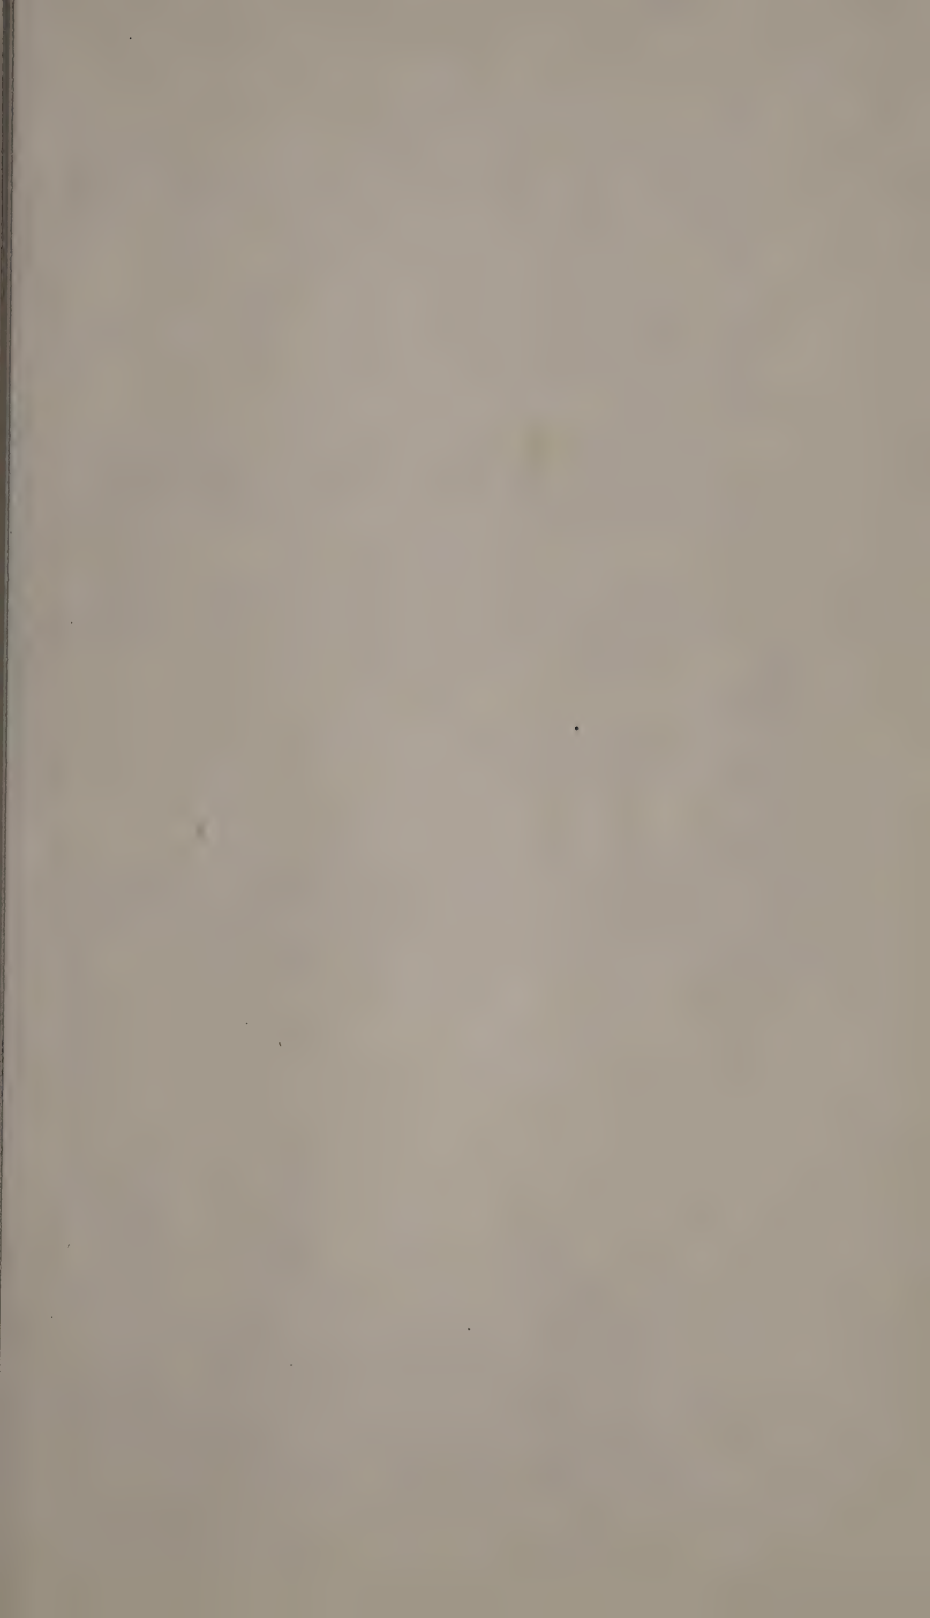

HORACE B. FURBISH,

Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of the Poor.

Board of Engineers 1924-25

There have been forty-three alarms this year, thirteen box and thirty still. We have placed a new furnace in the Village Fire House, painted the Beach House, also painted the Fire Truck and made some other repairs. We are trying to make a few repairs each year in order to keep the property in good condition. We should like this year, to see the fire alarm wires extended down Brown street as far as the house of George Spencer, as there are many houses in that section unprotected.

As you will note by our report, the Town made an appropriation of $400.00 to buy a truck for the Lower Village, but we were obliged to pay $484.00 for same. Also you will note we had a small balance left from our regular fire appropriation, which we applied to truck account, leaving a small overdraft.

Milk Inspector's Report

Kennebunk, Maine.

Twenty-two samples of milk were tested; out of that number only four were below standard.

Three hundred seventy-five cows were tested and only two were found to be diseased. This shows that the T. B. in cattle in this locality is nearly stamped out.

Inspection of barns where cattle are kept, and milk sold to the public shows all are in good sanitary condition.

During the past year there has been another material decrease in the debt of the town. The books of the Electric Light Dept. have to be closed December 31 of each year, as required by the State Public Utilities Commission; since that closing they have paid $3,000 on their notes. Taking that and the increase in the High School Sinking Fund into consideration, there has been a decrease in the town debt of $13,272.74, which is surely a very satisfactory showing.

During the past year the error in the accounts receivable of the Electric Light Dept. has been adjusted by the auditor of the State Public Utilities Commission and a proper balance set up, and their books are now properly adjusted.

All books and accounts of the several offices are well kept and balanced properly. There have been some changes and improvements in the methods of keeping the books, which make the work of balancing and auditing much quicker and better.

The Electric Light Department has made a good showing this last year.

The balance sheet shows a net gain of $7,132.26.

We have paid on our debt since our books were closed December 31st, $3,000.00 which leaves a balance of $3,000.00 which we plan to take care of next year.

Receipts for commercial lighting and power, not taking into account what we receive for Municipal Street lighting, were $19,230.07, which is a gain of 10 per cent over 1923.

Sixty-one new meters have been installed bringing the total number of customers served up to 845.

The line loss for the year was 24.031 per cent as against 24.7 per cent the year before.

	1923	1924
Generated	67,580 K. W.	108,390 K. W.
Purchased, Rogers Fibre Co.	41,500	93,800
Purchased, C. C. L. & P. Co.	270,100	165,000
	<hr/>	<hr/>
Total produced and purchased	379,280	367,190

The increase in our productions is due to the fact that the Good-all Worsted Co. have required less power during the year and also the efficiency of our plant has been higher. 52,200 K. W. increase from the Rogers Fibre Co. may be noted.

We have spent considerably more on our distribution lines, not because of necessity, but because the time was opportune. The N. E. Telephone & Telegraph Co. was obliged to rebuild its system on Brown Street and we co-operated with them and together built a joint line which will last for many years.

The pole line on the Sea Road as far as the Walsh place has been rebuilt and the commercial service extended, rendering service to seven new takers. We also extended our service on Saco Road beginning at a point near the residence of W. E. Smith and going as far as Samuel Sinnott's. We thus added eleven new customers. Customers on these lines have guaranteed to meet the conditions whereby we are able to make such extensions.

In way of repairs at the plant we have purchased new gearing for our water wheel, the old one having given us much trouble and finally went to pieces; bought a new exciter for one of the generators and also retubed the boiler that was defective. These repairs made necessary an outlay of about $1,900. The plant now is in first class condition and we do not anticipate any very heavy expense for several years to come.

We are already making plans to replace all the wooden poles on Main Street with steel and install an ornamental street lighting system. This was the vote of the Town in 1922; work to begin early this coming summer.

Miss A. L. Stone has been placed in charge of the books and all lighting and power bills are sent out from the office, and collections made through the same. The Treasurer still has charge of the checking account, makes all distribution of material and supplies, attends to the journal work and ledger and makes out the State and Town reports. This is done in order that close contact may be had with the needs of the Department.

O. E. CURTIS, Treas.,

REPORT

OF THE

Superintendent of Schools

To the Superintending School Committee of Kennebunk:

It is an honor and pleasure to submit to you my sixth annual report on the conditions and progress in the schools of Kennebunk. Experience has proved that the objectives we have been aiming at have led us in the right direction. To avoid repetition they may be stated in the following form which is quoted from a bulletin issued by the National Education Association only last year.

"The school's major objectives as stated in recently published courses of study may be summarized under the following heads:

1. Character development.
2. Command of the fundamental processes.
3. Health and physical efficiency.
4. Good citizenship.
5. Training for home life.
6. Vocational efficiency.
7. Worthy use of leisure.
8. General mental efficiency."

It is only just to ourselves to mention that during the year many compliments have been received by the teachers and superintendent from people who travel in different parts of New England on the excellent standards of the schools of Kennebunk. Several superintendents from other states have visited our schools and found the work so pleasing to them that they have captured some of our best teachers. One superintendent from Connecticut pronounced a socialized recitation in geography in the intermediate grades as the best thing of the kind he had seen. Especially enthusiastic has been the favorable comment on the work in the Park Street building. Not only the recitations but the discipline and the industrious trustworthy attitude of the pupils have received the highest praise.

PROGRESS

Two outstanding steps of progress were made during the year: first, the employment of a special teacher of penmanship and drawing; second, the opening of the upper grades of the Park Street grammar school to pupils from the rural schools.

Elsewhere will be found the report of Miss Young, whose excellent methods have made the teaching of her special subjects so successful on this her first year as a special teacher. Her report covers the field thoroughly and has my hearty approval.

The four one-teacher schools, commonly called rural schools, are now limited to the first seven grades, the pupils in the upper grades being conveyed to the main village where they have an equal educational opportunity with the pupils in the village.

THE CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS

Conditions in Maine make it necessary to maintain a large number of one-teacher or isolated rural schools. But even in Maine, people are rapidly coming to see the wisdom of consolidating these schools within reasonable limits. Last year, the number of one-teacher schools in the state of Maine was reduced by 193, a decrease of nearly one out of every ten. The idea of consolidation, then, is something more than a theory. It is a project that is successfully being carried out in a great many progressive towns.

When a consolidated school is established and proper conveyance is provided, a large number of children are taken from their own dooryards and carried in a warm, dry and comfortable vehicle to the door of the schoolhouse. Something hot is there provided to go with their dinner which they have ample time to eat. They may bring something hot from home in a thermos bottle if they prefer. At night they are returned safely to their homes.

Pupils who attend a one-teacher school must wade to and from the building in slush, mud and snow a part of the time and in constant danger from automobile traffic the remainder of the time. The advantage of having dinner at home is offset by the fact that very often children have so little time that they must bolt their food. This hasty eating of the noon-day meal together with the strenuous walk immediately before and immediately after eating is not usually recommended as a healthy mode of living.

In a one-teacher school it often happens that there is only one pupil in a class, and it seldom happens that there are more than four. Pupils alone or in such small classes have little competition. They do not realize how much they can do. A teacher with nine grades in a room can not average more than seven minutes to a recitation. There is not time to do justice to the work, particularly that of the upper grades where long recitations are essential to the proper explanation and development of the subjects. If a lesson of standard length is assigned, the rural teacher has no way of hearing it thoroughly and checking up on those pupils who will study only what they must.

There are four one-teacher schools in Kennebunk. They are so situated that at present it is not practicable to consolidate them in the whole. But it is reasonable and it is essential to the proper teaching of the pupils, to offer those in the upper grades a chance to attend the Park Street Grammar School in Kennebunk Village where the educational facilities are of a superior quality.

The disadvantage to grammar school pupils of attending a three grade grammar school is not as great as that of attending a nine-grade rural school, but it is still very marked. The teacher has just one-third as much time for each grade as the teachers at the central school, where there is one grade for each teacher.

Working for what they believe is the best interests of the pupils of Kennebunk, the school committee this year opened the central grammar school to the ninth grade pupils of Lower Kennebunk and to the eighth and ninth grade pupils of Upper Alewife, Lower Alewife, and the Pines schools. For many years these grades had been open to the pupils from the Landing and West Kennebunk. Surely, pupils from all sections of the town have the right to enjoy the same privileges as those from the two sections just mentioned.

The gradual consolidation of the upper grades of the Kennebunk schools has been the policy of the school committee for the past three years. The same opportunity educationally is offered to all the pupils in town to master thoroughly the important subjects taught in the grammar grades and to prepare for high school. By coming to the Park Street School, the girl from Upper Alewife or the boy from Lower Kennebunk is given the same work, the same studies, the same social activities, the same preparation for high school as the village pupil.

This is a great advantage to the pupil. Competition in the studies is keen. There is an incentive to work. There is the joy of doing what some one else is doing and doing it as well or a little better. The teacher has time to give out more work and to see that it is done. Not counting the time spent in supervised study when the teacher explains the lessons to and with the class, the recitations are from 30 to 45 minutes long.

Moreover, the pupil gets acquainted with other pupils in the class before he enters high school. He learns the customs, the regulations, and the system by which the schools in the new building are run before he undertakes the high school studies, the most of which are new and strange. Entrance to high school to him is not a leap to be dreaded. It is only a natural step in his educational progress.

It is only just and right that these advantages should be offerred to all the upper grade pupils in town because their parents are helping to pay the cost of the new building as much as those in the village.

Consolidation of schools is a practical fact in many towns. Consolidation of the upper grades is working well in many more. It works all right in practice in the western end of this town. Parents in the eastern end of the town are just as much interested in the welfare of their children as those in the other sections and their children are not inferior. Yet, while the parents in the western section of the town are so well pleased with the plan that some are willing to pay the conveyance themselves rather than have their children lose this opportunity, the parents in the Pines and Lower Kennebunk section presented the committee with a petition asking that the upper grades be returned to their schools. Out of consideration for the wishes of the people, but contrary to what they believe is best for the pupils, the committee granted the petition. The committee, as well as the superintendent, are convinced that it is a mistake for the upper grades to be returned to these schools, but can see that it may be a greater mistake to attempt to force a proposition upon a community which is unitedly opposed to it. Time will tell whether or not the committee is right.

The people of Lower Kennebunk have no objection to the people in the other end of the town sending their children to the central school. It is a kind of the feeling that if you will let us alone we will let you alone and that is not a bad feeling to have at all. Therefore, the present situation need not prevent the committee from going ahead with the constructive program which is now underway.

THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

The next logical step in the policy of the committee is the establishment of the Junior High School at the Park Street School. Just when popular support of this idea will be strong enough so that the committee will decide to take this important step is not yet certain. In many ways the coming year seems to be the opportune time.

Kennebunk Village is admirably located geographically for the organization of a real Junior High School. The new building offers every facility needed. Departmental teaching is already established. The transition could be made very easily.

What is a Junior High School? It is a bridge on the road the child follows in his education which spans the gap between the grammar school and the high school. It leaves to the Senior High School the last three years of the public school course. It consists of the next three or four lower grades. It does not weaken the Senior High School, but forms a foundation for it. The teachers in the Junior High School are specialists in their subjects.

There is not room in this report to state all the advantages of a real Junior High School. They may be summarized briefly as follows: superior teachers, thorough training for the pupils, the sense of continuity in promotion from grade to grade and consequently keeping more pupils in school who now needlessly drop out.

A point to be remembered is that many of these advantages we now have more or less incompletely so that only a slight change in the organization will make it possible to rightfully use the new name.

LOWER KENNEBUNK SCHOOL HOUSE

Repairs on the Lower Kennebunk school house have been asked for year after year until the time has come when further delay may lead to serious consequences. The heating and plumbing system is unsafe and unsanitary. To make the building suitable for children to be in, it will take close to Five Thousand Dollars. Besides, the building is badly in need of shingles and paint.

Another bad feature about this building is the location and shape of the primary room. Sticking out toward the north as it does without any basement it is impossible to heat it with hot air and almost impossible to heat it with steam. The room has a very awkward shape for school purposes as it is composed of two additions made at different times and placed end to end so that it is wider than it is long, considering the width of the room as the left to right dimension as the scholars sit.

The plan which is favored by the community is based on this proposition: as it is unavoidable to expend about Five Thousand Dollars, why not lay out just a little more and have the building made right. This can be done by adding another story to the building. This will provide two large rooms upstairs separated by folding doors, one room to be used as the grammar school room and the other as a community hall; while for large gatherings the folding doors can be pushed back and new movable desk chairs set to one side so that the whole top floor can be used for public meetings and entertainments. Then the two rooms downstairs will become the primary and intermediate rooms. The entire cost of this plan including all necessary repairs has been estimated at Ten Thousand Dollars.

If the two upper grades were conveyed to Kennebunk, the pupils in the other grades could be taken care of in two rooms as they are now at West Kennebunk. As long as all nine grades are required to attend school in this building, it is desirable that this alteration be made.

REPAIRS

Several important jobs of repair work were completed during the year. These are itemized under School Accounts. The recommendation of the budget committee of a uniform color for the school houses was carried out with very satisfactory results.

The minor repairs needed for next year are few. The Upper Alewife and Grove Street schools should be painted and the general upkeep provided for.

TEACHERS AND TEACHERS' SALARIES

During the summer, several of our best teachers were lost to us because other towns could pay a little more salary. This increase could not be met and our expenses kept within the appropriations, because if one worthy teacher receives an increase others just as worthy as entitled to the same raise. In general we have been very fortunate in our new teachers.

Highest salary paid regular grade teachers	$1,200.00
Average salary paid regular grade teachers	888.89
Lowest salary paid regular grade teachers	750.00
Average salary paid special teachers	1,166.67
Average salary paid high school assistants	1,266.67
Salary of high school principal	2,300.00

It will be noted that the average salary of grade teachers is $16.66 less than last year while the average salary of the high school assistants is this much more.

It is expected that salaries will remain about the same during the coming year.

HEALTH

The cooperation of the Public Health Association and the American Red Cross with the schools has been very helpful to the children. The establishment of the dental clinic is a very important step for the whole town. The work of the Junior Red Cross has been continued.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

The work in this department is being continued along the lines laid down last year and the course seems to be generally recognized as well worth while.

KENNEBUNK HIGH SCHOOL

The town is to be congratulated on having as principal of the high school, a man with the high standards, backbone and popularity of Mr. Mulvaney. He has an able corps of assistants.

HIGH SCHOOL CONVEYANCE AND TUITION

An item of expenditure which causes more or less comment every year is the amount paid to Kennebunkport for the tuition of pupils from Lower Kennebunk. This year the amount paid was $535.71. If the pupils had been conveyed to Kennebunk by electric car it would have cost $525 very nearly, and the latter sum does not include textbooks or supplies which would be used by those pupils if they had gone to high school in their home town. As far as cost alone is concerned it is really a little cheaper, all things included, for the town to pay the tuition. The pupils at the Lower Village, with a few exceptions, prefer to go to Kennebunkport High School, partly because of the convenience, partly because of the social relations and partly because of the commercial course which is offered by Kennebunkport and not by Kennebunk. Because of a vote passed by the town several years ago, the committee have given pupils in that neighborhood the choice of where to go to high school.

FINANCES

It will be noted from the school accounts that when the tuition due us has been received the expenditures for the current fiscal year have been kept well within the appropriations.

The average tax rates last year for the state were .042 for municipal purposes and .011 for schools. The rate in Kennebunk was .040 for municipal purposes and .0097 for schools. A rate of $9.70 per thousand for schools against an average of $11 for the state can not be considered excessive. In the liberality with which it supports its schools, Kennebunk is still far behind the average for the state. I would like to see Kennebunk rated better than an average town, but I do not believe in spending money needlessly and the large balances on some of the accounts show that simply having the money does not necessarily mean it will be spent. It is spent only when absolutely needed.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Business and labor conditions in the town are such that it does not seem advisable this year to recommend any change in the school courses which will require additional appropriations. We purpose only to hold fast to that which is good.

On several accounts a slightly smaller appropriation is asked for than last year.

No insurance policies came due last year but several premiums must be paid in the year ahead including that on the new building.

The physics-chemistry table was placed in the high school laboratory and the practical plans of the principal will make it possible to put in the necessary apparatus and equipment at a much smaller price than was estimated last year.

The most urgent need in the high school building is a means of warming the water for the showers. There is no reason why the girls should not have one shower bath as well as the boys. The effect of lack of water at a suitable temperature upon the health of the pupils is something that should be given careful and unprejudiced consideration.

CONCLUSION

The people of the town responded liberally to the needs of the pupils last year and I thank them heartily for their support of the public schools.

Respectfully submitted,

MERTON T. GOODRICH,

Supt. of Schools.

Report of the High School Principal

Superintendent M. T. Goodrich:

Dear Sir: I respectfully submit my first annual report as principal of Kennebunk High School. It is primarily a record of events that have occurred since I assumed my duties on September 12, 1924.

The school year opened in the High School Building on the 15th of September, 1924. None of the former faculty returned. The present members of the faculty are Mrs. Katherine S. Wood, University of New Hampshire, Latin and French; Miss Pauline Abbott, Colby, History and Latin; Miss Theresa Jackson, University of Maine, English; A. D. Mulvaney, University of Maine, Principal, Mathematics and Science. We are very fortunate in that all the members of the faculty, with but one exception, are veteran teachers, having had from three to five years experience in larger high schools.

I found no records of Courses of Study left by my predecessor, Mr. Lombard. The following two courses were arranged:

College Course

Fresh. Yr.	Soph. Yr.	Junior Yr.	Senior Yr.
English	English	English	English
Algebra	Plane Geom.	French	U. S. Hist.
Latin	Latin	Latin	Physics or
Anc. History	French	History or	Med. Hist. or
		Physics or	Dom. Science
		Review Math.

General Course

Fresh. Yr.	Soph. Yr.	Junior Yr.	Senior Yr.
English	English	English	English
Algebra	Geometry	French	U. S. History
Gen. Sci. or	French	Rev. Math. or	French
Dom. Sci.	Dom. Sci.	Physics or	Physics or
Anc. History	History	History	Med. Hist. or
			Dom. Science

The High School Chorus meets one period a week with Miss Guion.

No fourth year Latin was given this year because of Miss Stoehr's recommendation. She didn't think that last year's Juniors were properly qualified to take this subject. However, Latin IV will be given next year. Third year French III was introduced because of the demands made by most colleges for Modern Languages.

Our new Physics laboratory table was installed in December. You may be assured that a stable and practical course will be given in this subject. This table is just as well fitted for Chemistry as for Physics. A thorough training in this course will be given next year.

The scholarship in this High School is fair. It should be better. I feel that too many of my students are not spending enough time in home study. Not all of this fault lies with the students. The parents should bear in mind that after the boys and girls leave the building they are no longer in our care. Few pupils have more than 80 minutes for study in school and must, therefore, study not less than two hours daily at home. I think that often times the teachers are too lenient in their grading of students. I feel that this has been the case in some of the other years with the pupils of Kennebunk High School. The members of the faculty have been instructed to be very careful in marking and grading. There will be more failures this year than in the past because I want the students to realize that a good mark is a reward for careful and faithful study. If the standard of the school is to be raised our system of grading must likewise be improved. There is no excuse for a low standard in this high school and this unfortunate matter can be remedied only by drastic measures.

The valedictory and salutatory honors at graduation will be omitted this year. It is quite impossible to grade the honor students so closely without regard to the courses of study pursued by them. If all the honor students took the same studies with the same teachers, then it might be fair to rate their abilities in a relative manner. However, these students will be given the preference when the graduation parts are assigned.

Daily attendance, 94.3 per cent. for the fall term was good. Fifty students or 50 per cent of the total enrollment attended every session. There is more tardiness than there is cause for and his deplorable as well as inexcusable habit can be overcome.

Extra curricula activities give Kennebunk High a leading place in the schools of this county. The football team had a glorious season and decisively defeated all teams in their class as well as a few of the larger school elevens. The basketball squad is developing at a satisfactory rate. For the first time in late years, the girls have a regular organized team with a schedule of games. This sextette is enjoying a season of victories due to the very efficient coaching of Mrs. Wood.

The Glee Club presented their yearly operetta "The Toreadors" in a pleasing manner due to the diligent work of Miss Guion. It is to be regretted that the townspeople didn't patronize this effort of the students in a more appropriate manner. An attempt has been made to revive the High School Orchestra and Mrs. Wood has rehearsals at regular intervals.

Much credit is due the teachers for the splendid work they are doing. Personally, I desire to thank them for their whole-hearted co-operation at all times.

A few minor changes relative to the program of studies and methods of administration will be made with your approval. In the future I may have some suggestions to make pertaining to both organization and administration of the schools but they will be made only after a careful study of local conditions and the educational demand of the great epoch in which we are now living.

In conclusion, I wish to express to you and the members of the School Committee my hearty appreciation of the co-operation and assistance which have been given me during the time that I have been associated with you as principal of Kennebunk High School.

Yours respectfully,

ARTHUR D. MULVANEY.

Penmanship and Art

It is with pleasure that I take this opportunity of telling a little about our courses in penmanship and art.

We are using the Palmer Method of Business Writing. According to a recent publication the manual of this system is now being used in eighty-five per cent of the schools in the United States, in all the schools of her territories, and in all her government schools. It is also in extensive use in foreign countries.

At the opening of the fall term specimens of hand writing were gathered from nearly all pupils who could write at all. We are hoping that a comparison of these with others to be written in May will show some progress made.

Body position, free muscular movement, and good letter forms are being emphasized, with a gradual development of speed in view.

A decided change has quite recently been made in the aims and methods of teaching art in public schools. Among large numbers of children only a very few have special natural gifts for realistic drawing. At best only a small amount of training in this line can be given in the grades where the few and the many must be grouped together. So we are adopting art courses that are of practical use to all classes, seeking to develop an ability to select and appreciate the best in the ordinary problems of life. Some principles of drawing are included. Our motto is "Art is the best way of doing things."

Following is an outline of the course upon which we are basing our work:

- I. Design and Color
- II. Commercial Design
 - Lettering, poster making, picture mounting, bookbinding
- III. Costume Design

Beginning with simple arrangements of color and line on paper dolls

IV. Interior Decoration

Planning and making miniature rooms

V. Domestic Art

Encouragement for original designs in fancywork

VI. Construction Design

Considerations in making an article:

Suitable material

Fine proportion

Color harmony

Fitness for purpose

VII. Object Drawing

For use in design

VIII. Nature Drawing

For decorative purposes

Time and material are not yet sufficient for all that is listed, but we are working toward these ends.

With much appreciation of the interest shown by teachers and pupils, and of the confidence of those who have entrusted this work to my care, I respectfully submit this report.

GERTRUDE A. YOUNG,

Supervisor of Penmanship and Art.
